

Amy Pistone

2115 Angell Hall, 435 State Street
Ann Arbor MI 48109
(530) 277-8574 • apistone@umich.edu

Education

University of Michigan

Doctorate of Philosophy Classical Studies

September 2010 – December 2016

Dissertation: "When the Gods Speak: Oracular Communication and Concepts of Language in Sophocles"

Dissertation Chair: Ruth Scodel. Committee Members: Richard Janko, Sara Ahbel-Rappe, Ezra Keshet

University of California, Berkeley

Bachelor of Arts Classical Languages, summa cum laude

September 2003 - May 2008

Research and Teaching Interests

- Greek Tragedy
- Early Greek Philosophy and Scientific Thought
- Women in the Ancient World and Feminist Theory
- Reception and Reperformance of Greek Drama

Publications

"874. Day-by-Day Register," [together with Graham Claytor] in: W.G. Claytor, S. Lash and A. Verhoogt (eds.), Papyri from Karanis: The Granary C123 (P.Mich. XXII). (under review)

Review of The Women from Trachis at Walgreen Drama Center, by Sophokles, translated and directed by Doron Bloomfield, Walgreen Drama Center, Ann Arbor, MI. Didaskalia 9 (2012): 24-26.

<http://www.didaskalia.net/issues/9/5/>.

Papers Presented

"Double Vision: Gendered Modes of Prophecy in Greek Tragedy," Feminism and Classics VII: Visions, Seattle, May 2016.

"'Trusty' Oracles of Zeus? The Pragmatics of Prophecies in Sophocles' Trachiniae," SCS 147th Annual Meeting, San Francisco, January 2016.

"Antigone the Activist: Greg Taubman's Antigone/Progeny," Classical Association Annual Conference 2014, Nottingham, April 2014.

"The Δυσκολώτερον Σκόλιον: A New Model of the Skolion Game in Antiquity," 145th APA Annual Meeting, Chicago, January 2014.

"Is There a Doctor in the House? Medical and Psychological Depictions of Madness in Euripides," 4th Biennial Graduate Conference of the UCLA Classics Department. Mens Insana: Madness in the Ancient World, Los Angeles, November 2012.

Teaching Experience

Primary Instructor

Latin 101

- Test-writing; instruction; and grading

Latin 102

- Test-writing; grading

Section Instructor

Classical Civilization 101 (Greek literature and history in translation)

- Writing-intensive course
- Discussion section instruction; test-writing; grading

Classical Civilization 372: Sport and Daily Life in the Roman World

- Discussion section instruction; test-writing; grading

Great Books 191

- Discussion section instruction; grading
- Guest-lecturing on the Eumenides

Greek Mythology

- Discussion session instruction; test-writing; grading

Greek 103 (Intensive Greek)

- Test-writing; lecturing and supplementary instruction; grading

Modern Greek 325 (Athens Present and Past)

- Writing-intensive course
- Grading and writing workshop instruction
- Guest-lecturing on the Peloponnesian War and Athens in the 5th and 4th century

Service Experience

Service to the Department

- Committee for the Support of Job Seekers (2015-present)
- Three Fields Talks Committee (2013-present)
- Copley Latin Day Committee (2015-present)
- Literature Brown Bag Coordinator (2014-2016)
- Graduate Student Mentor (Winter 2015)
- Department Graduate Representative (2011-2012)

Service to the University

- Contexts for Classics Graduate Student Coordinator (2015-present)
- Rackham Graduate Student Blogger (2012-present)
- Facilitator for Graduate Student Instructor Teaching Orientation (2012-present)

Service to the Field

- Women's Classical Caucus Graduate Liaison (2012-2016)
- "Developing a Contingency Plan: A Dialogue about Non-Tenure Track Faculty" (roundtable leader), SCS 147th Annual Meeting, San Francisco, January 2016.
- "Navigating a Career in Classics" (panel organizer), Classical Association of the Middle West and South Conference, Boulder, March 2015.

Professional Development

- Graduate Teaching Certificate (GTC+Digital Media Certificate, with a particular focus on digital pedagogy) through the Center for Research on Learning and Teaching
- Preparing Future Faculty Seminar (Summer 2016)

Awards and Fellowships

- Rackham Predoctoral Fellowship (2016-2017)
- Context for Classics Classical Translation Contest Winner (2015, 2016)
- GTC+ Faculty-Student Networking Grant (2015)
- Rackham Conference Travel Grant (2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016)